

Visit Summary Report

- Title

Consultation for Fever, Sore Throat, and Fatigue

- Description

The patient presented to the doctor complaining of feeling unwell for the past two days. Symptoms include a sore throat, fatigue, and body aches. The patient reported a fever of 105 degrees Fahrenheit. The patient denied any breathing difficulties and recent travel history.

- Results: * Fever

105 degrees Fahrenheit.

- Overall Summary

The patient is experiencing symptoms consistent with a probable infection, including a high fever, sore throat, fatigue, and body aches. Further questioning to clarify the foolish feeling and specification of the infection. The doctor needs to prescribe appropriate medication.